... If they be two, they are two so
As stiff twin compasses are two;
Thy soul, the fixed foot, makes no show
To move, but doth, if th' other do.

And though it in the centre sit,
Yet when the other far doth roam,
It leans and hearkens after it,
And grows erect, as that comes home.

Such wilt thou be to me, who must
Liketh' other foot, obliquely run;
Thy firmness makes my circle just,
And makes me end where I begun."

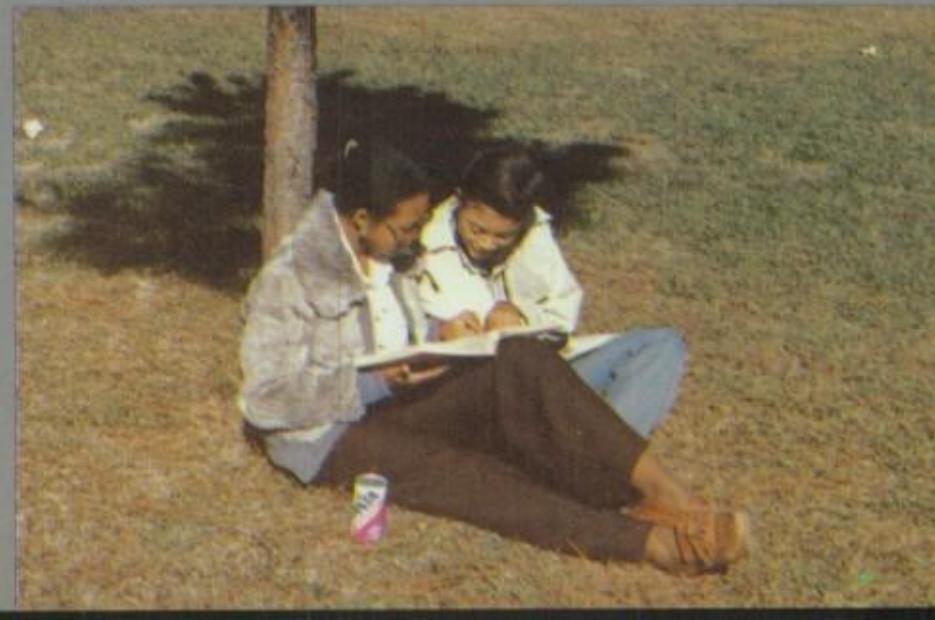

John Donne

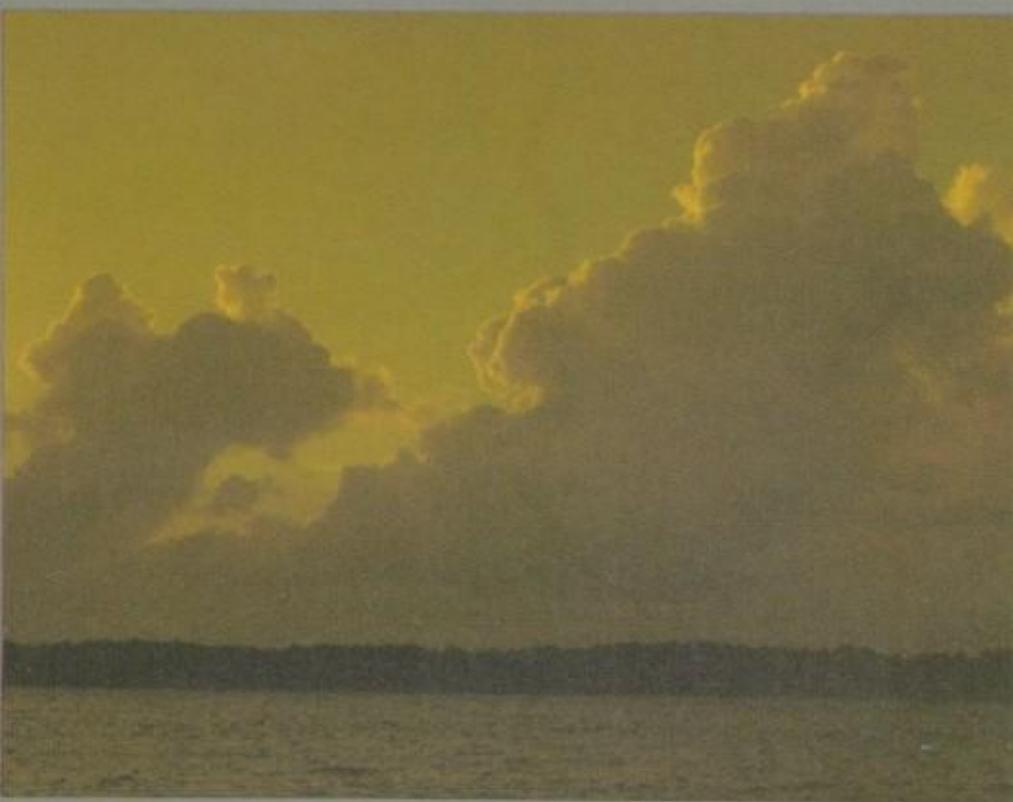

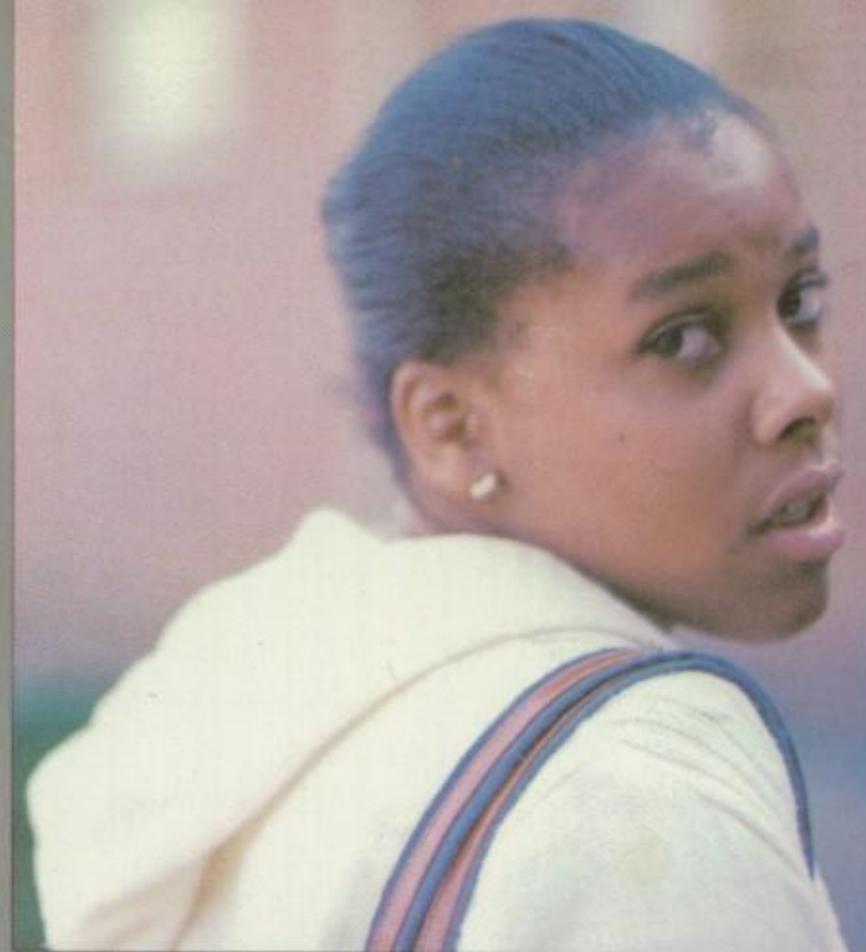

... Change. One's life changes in many ways. But, like the compass in Donne's poem, some things always remain constant: our friends, our family, our school. And, as one grows older, he finds that no matter how far he may travel or how many changes he may experience, Lee High will always be the focal point, his center of being, the point from which, like the compass, he embarks upon his journey of life's never-ending circle.

Upon this all-important journey in life, man faces changes of many kinds. Some changes are of world-wide importance while others affect only the immediate community. Some changes are quite radical and are observed immediately, while others go unnoticed and are finally realized only when they become a part of the past.

Here at Lee High, the students have experienced many changes this year. A new decade has arrived presenting new ideas, inventions, problems resolutions, questions and answers.

A change in leadership has introduced Lee High's seventh principal. In other areas of school activities, new leaders have resumed the roles of those who have previously served.

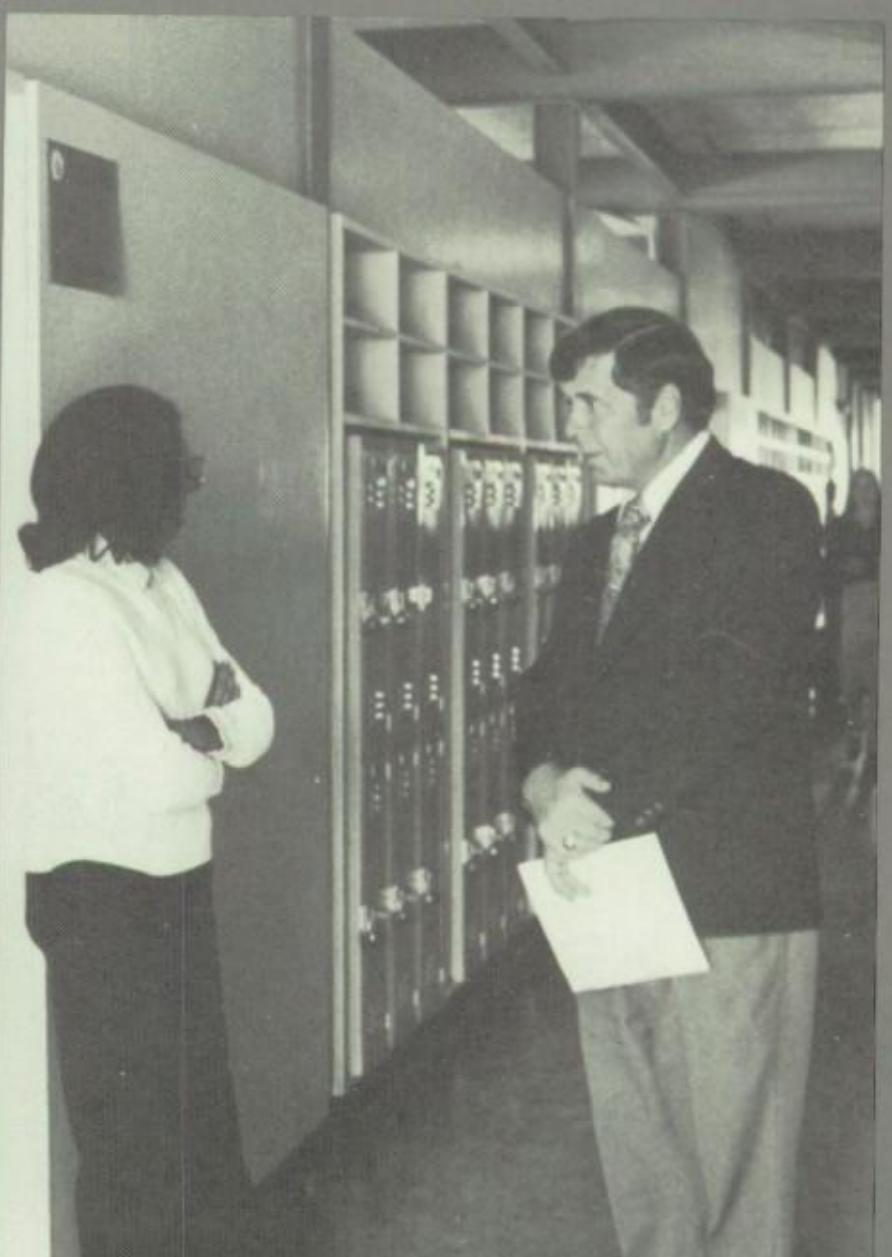

Even the changes of the seasons can be compared to a compass, for they, too, follow a perpetual cycle.

Changes . . . Some people are opposed to changes of any kind; however, changes is a good thing for it brings to life new beginnings without necessarily altering the old ones. No matter what changes occur in the future, the students of Lee High are bound to this institution just as the parts of the compass are joined. Let the spirit and love of the people of Lee High be forever a continuous circle.

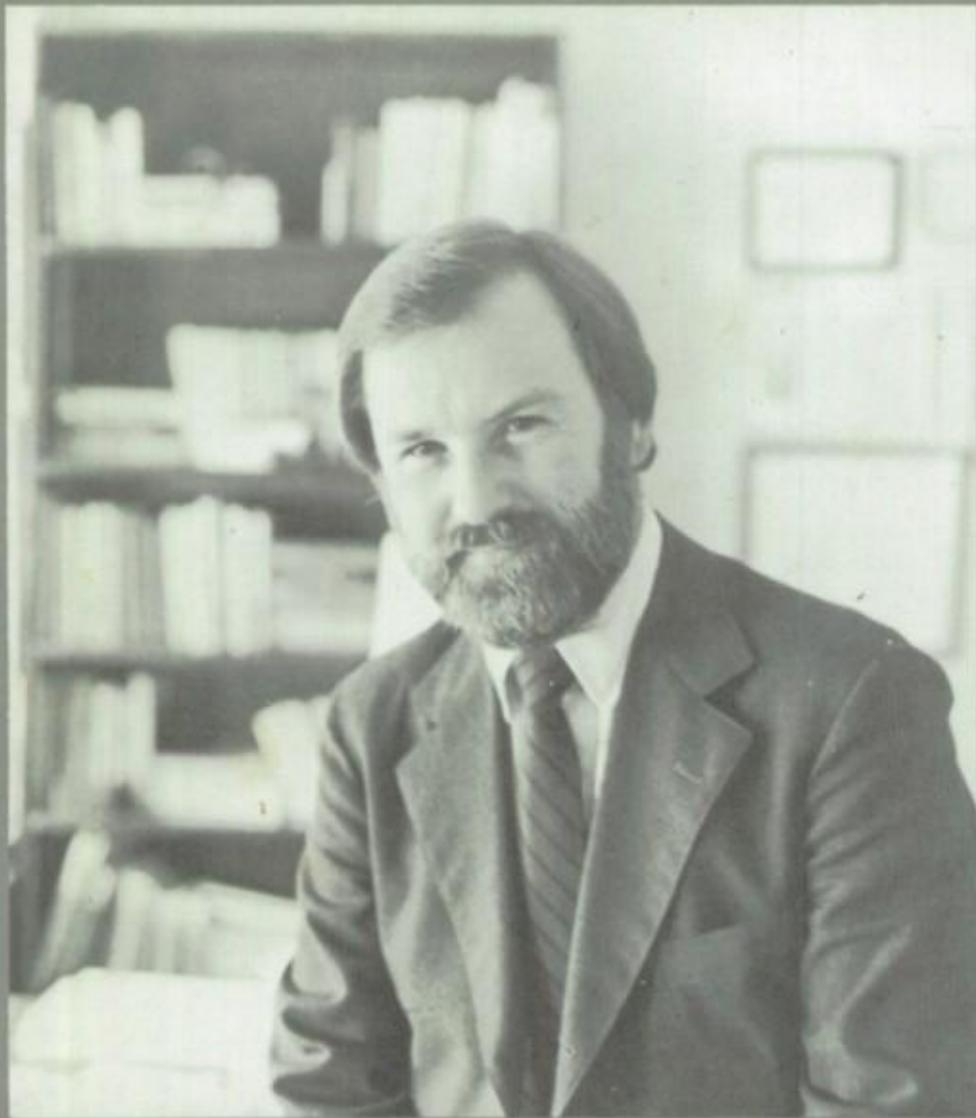

Perhaps the greatest change that has occurred this year has been the induction of Mr. Charles D. Newell, as principal of Lee High. Over the past year, Mr. Newell has come to Lee High as its 7th principal. Upon accepting this position, he has taken on this challenge and has added much to the ever growing spirit of Lee High. His understanding and concern for the welfare of students is his top priority. Mr. Newell keeps a working relationship with all his faculty and strives to upgrade the standards of education at Lee High School. He is concerned, and he is always willing to discuss any problem no matter how great or small. For these and numerous reasons the Maroon and White salutes Mr. Charles D. Newell.

RON LOCKE leads a sing-along.

Those who knew Mrs. Smith will never forget her because she was always around to brighten the saddest face. Any student, teacher, or friend could always turn to her with his problems — no matter how great or how small. Even though Mrs. Smith dedicated most of her life to teaching, she spent a great deal of time and efforts in different areas of artwork, ceramics, and community affairs.

Mrs. Smith has not lost her place at Lee High. She will always be remembered in our hearts as a most understanding person who made people happier by just being near.

STEPHEN P. LEE HIGH SCHOOL

Being editor of the Maroon and White has been hectic, crazy, and time consuming, but most of all it has been fun. The amount of work and time required to compile an annual is unreal, and it has been a trying experience to make this annual everyone's book instead of just a chosen few. I hope that in years to come this annual will capture all the memories you have had during your high-school years, and that everytime you leaf through its pages, the good times will all come back to you.

My thanks go out to Pat Murphy for the unselfish devotion of his time for our cover and other artwork contained in the book, to Joe Sarcone for his tremendous help with the photography, to Paul Jonson and Tim Newton for their unceasing willingness with the taking and developing of pictures, and to the staff who was always willing to work no matter what the task. I would also like to give my appreciation to Young Kerby who, even though he was not a member of the annual staff, did everything possible to aid us in anyway that he could. But, most of all I want to thank Ron Locke who has not only put his time and energy into this book, but has also contributed a part of himself to make this annual such a success. His never-ending concern for his students has always come before anything else. His kindness and compassion for all those around him make him more than a teacher or a sponsor — they make him a friend.

There are many more people who made this annual possible and to all who helped, I would like to say "thanks". And to all of you, I hope this annual is as enjoyable and memorable to look at as it has been to edit.

Sincerely yours,

Lee Harrison
